...from the Animal Kingdom face your enemy with a smile on your lips the consequence of rapturous applause is life as a hat speed should conform to mental perception even the most stable floorings have a limited lifespan next evolution I'll report to the allocation of brainsize have we already sent off our letter of thanks to the contraceptive industry ?

we want to counter their technical tone with hot primal sounds quick ... a TV break ... they're coming out soon they don't realize, we're just telling each other the latest jokes flatulence made me a star space and time are to be explored relatively slowly

if they think we're paying rent for this,
they are mistaken

what a coincidence !

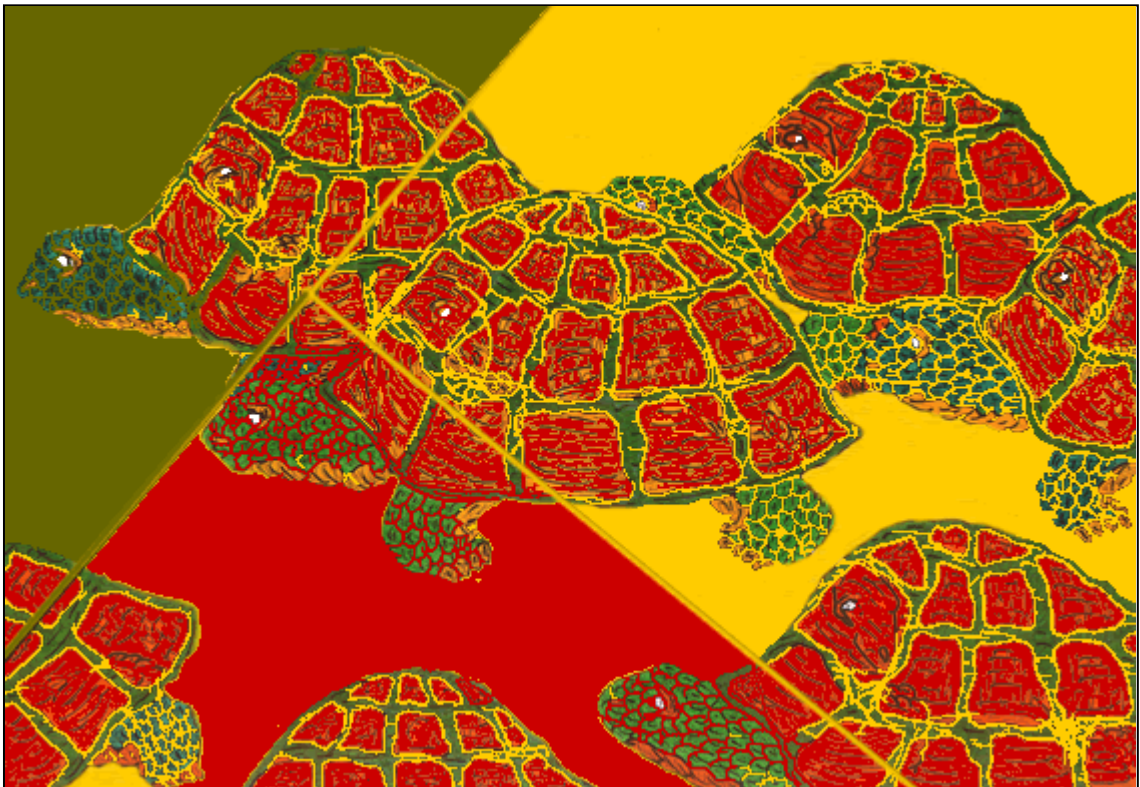

he should have considered it in the first place folks, life is overflown with blood there's nothing like a well-kept inner life think...mean...promise...my...think...promise...mean Superdrake

the future ... we stay being ravens .. and you?
